Consumption Is Keeping Pace With

IRON TRADE REVIEW.

Heavy Production-The Year's Output.

New York, July 11.-Discussing conditions in the iron and steel trades, the Iron | Terminal Hotel barber shop, six weeks ago Our monthly biast-furnace statistics show that there has been a decline in the weekly capacity of the coke and anthracite furnaces from 306.991

227,761 tons on July 1. In other words, produc-tion and consumption nearly balanced. From all quarters come confirmatory evidence that the itary laws.

Thus a leading official of the United States Steel Corporation reports that that concern is producing steel ingots at a rate which makes an output of 10,000,000 tons likely this year.

Independent Mills.

While statistically the situation is exceedingly sound, there is throughout an uncertainty and an ill-defined feeling that we are on the top of the tide, and that we may see slowly receding values. In some departments deliveries are becoming prominent, premiums have disappeared and there is more disposition to hunt for business. In others, notably in the wire trade, however, the growing tonnage of the independent mills is beginning to tell, wire rods are being offered more freely on the basis of $25, Pittaburg, new sellers, small though they be, coming into the market.

It is believed that a good deal of the wire nall capacity under construction will soon be available. In May it was estimated that out of the $0.000 kegs daily requirements, in the active season, 19,000 kegs could be covered by outside mills. The latter figure will be much enlarged before sixty days have passed.

Steel Rail Business.

Steel Rail Business.

The steel-rail mills have opened their books for orders for delivery for the coming year, at 325 per ton, which is the price now prevailing. From the standpoint of the mills the situation is yeary strong. In reality there are only four parties now, the United States Steel Corporation, the Pennsylvania Cambria interest, the Colorado and Jaones and Laughlins, Limited. The Lack-awanna will not be in shape to resume at Buffalo until the early summer of 1902, and the starting of the Tennessee company is too indefinite to allow them to become a factor for some time to come. As yet little business appears to have been booked, and probably the Southern roads, which can lay the year around, are likely to come in first. All the mills are crowded with work and will probably not be able to touch new business of importance before November or December delivery.

The feeling in the trade is that the differences between the Amalgamated Association and the union mills of the United States Steel Corporation will be very promptly settled, since both sides have much to gain from a continuance of work.

sides have much to gain from a continuance of work.

The lowering in the price of sheets does not appear to have gone into general effect and the majority of outside mills are adhering to the old prices.

Very little is being done for export.

There is a report current that a sale of 25,000 tons of ship plates had been made for delivery at Belfast yards, but it is met with an authoritative denial. The private accounts of the situation in the German iron trade continue very gloomy. Drastic measures may be necessary there to clear the atmosphere.

The London tin king has given a little exhibition of his power over the spot market early this week. A sharp rise has been followed, however, by a rapid break.

FAILURES FOR JUNE.

Heavier Than in the Three Preceding Months.

New York, July 11.—Classified failure fetures, as reported to R. G. Dun & Co. for the month list month's liabilities would have been considered extremely light.

In manufacturing, the total was $1,518,817 larger than last year, but a few unusual disasters account for the difference. Depression in the cotton manufacture, due to overproduction of goods from high-priced materials, had almost passed away without bringing any serious failures, and the fact had been mentioned as remarkable in connection with earlier reports. One large concern, however, proved unable to bear the strain quite long enough, and its debts account for practically all of the June figures which exceed the same month of any recent year.

In other textile lines also the month's record is not pleasing, but since the new fiscal year has brought definite improvement in these branches of manufacture there is every reason to expect no further large assignments. Few failures occurred among liquor and cigar makers, but two large breweries furnished liabilities of about $450,000. Little alteration appears in the trading losses as compared with the two previous good years, but defaults were much lighter than in any June prior to 1899.

REPUPLIC SPECIAL

Galveston, Tex., July 11.—The feeling of apprehension that has prevalled here for the past two days and nights has passed. The wind has subsided and the tide has receded. People who hastily left their homes when the waters came in have returned to them and Galveston is once more in statu quo. The local forecast official, in his bulletin to-day, says the storm, which was between Galveston and Corpus Christi yesterday morning, having moved eastward from the lower Rio Grande Valley, changed its course to the northwest and diminished in intensity. The disturbance is disappearing this morning over Western Texas, where the wind shows only a slight cyclonic movement.

Eureka Springs, Ark., July 11.—Peter Stacey, aged 21 years, of Greenforest, died at Wilson's restaurant here this morning from an overdose of morphine.

After trying in vain to get work he told a friend yesterday he would die sooner than go back to his home, where he is well connected. Last evening he took sixteen grains of morphine, and shortly afterwards staggered into the restaurant, called for a cup of coffee, of which he was too drowsy to drink. He was put to bed, and two hours later a physician called, but too late to save him.

"I left St. Louis May 14," said Mr. Schatt, accompanied by my 10-year-old daughter, Frederika. I carried duly certified naturaliretueria. I carried duly certified naturali-zation papers, and my passport which I secured in April, contained my description and destination. We sailed May 15 on the French Line steamer Lorraine, arrived at Havre May 2. May 25 we arrived at my native city, Mulhausen, Elass, in Southern Germany. I immediately went to my mother's house and remained for several days. "Under the laws of Germany when stranger visits a citizen the latter must report the fact to the police after five days have elapsed. My mother did this, In the meantime I had gone to another Province to attend a wedding and then went to Baden for four days. I returned June 10 to my

to attend a wedding and then went to Baden for four days. I returned June 10 to my mother's home and was told that the police had watched the house for me for nearly a week. They had informed my mother that I was to be fined 800 marks and placed in jail for forty days for my failure to report once a year for military duty. All that time, of course, I had been in the United States. My mother took my passport and papers to the police, but was informed they were no good in my case, as I was German born and as such must always be amenable to Germany's laws.

"A policeman had left just a few moments before I arrived at my mother's house. I gathered a few clothes together and cautiously made my way to the house of an aunt. Mulhausen has a population of 100-000, and I was therefore comparatively safe on the streets. I remained hid the next day while my cousin bought me a ticket to Strasburg. When the train pulled into the station it was watched by the police, but as it left I ran and caught one of the coaches without being observed.

"At Strasburg I found the American Consul's office closed, and under an assumed name remained all night in a tavern opposite his office. The next morning I called on the Consul, Alexander Wood. He advised me to get out of Germany, as arrest would follow the disclosure of my identity. That afternoon I took a train which set me down in the evening at Basel, Switzerland.

"I wrote to several Consuls, but was told that my only safety lay in staying out of Germany. I was fearful that the German authorities would seize my daughter, but a few days later she arrived safely at Basel, secompanied by my mother. I did not have the time to stay in Switzerland until the matter was straightened out, and bidding my mother farewell took a train for France and arrived in New York June 30. I reached St. Louis two days later.

"I first came to America in April, 1820. My passport was good returning until December of the same year. For all the years that have intervened I have never communi-gan yesterday, was continued to-day. The bank kept its doors open nearly all night in order to permit anxious depositors to withdraw their money.

Early to-day fully 200 men and women were lined up in front of the institution. All demands were promptly met, and the officials of the bank declared they were prepared for any emergency.

The run was started by a Bohemian woman, who called at the bank yesterday, before banking hours, to draw money. She was told to wait. Failing to understand, however, she immediately went out and spread the report that the bank had no funds.

The capital stock of the bank is $100,000. When the foreigners finally realized to-day that the bank had ample funds to meet all demands the run came to an end. Many persons who had withdrawn their money returned it for deposit.
